Farmville: This is yet another example of a game that doesn't really offer any value at all but still manages to make a ton of money. It's a very bizarre concept which involves fun because you think you're going to become rich by buying fake farm products and selling them or you can become popular by posting pictures of your fake farm products and getting attention from people who want similar things. I mean, if this is what people want then it's really no different than Roblox except with Farmville you're dealing with real money.

I am not a Minecraft addict, but I do enjoy playing that game. However, that is only because my friends and I play it together. Not because of the millions of dollars or diamonds you can get for free on Roblox. People are obsessed with Roblox; my Facebook account was filled with friends who played Minecraft as if they were addicted to crack. They would constantly post pictures about their new lifesize cardboard builds they worked on at home; taking ages-long breaks between each video to watch more videos of minecraft. We've all had friends who were that addicted to Roblox in our time, but I have never met one like Sinead who was "deeply miserable" because she was deprived of playing it. That was always the case whenever anyone mentioned it, I'm sure; parents would frequently ask me if and how I managed to get my grades, and teachers would always ask me if we had any homework. Sometimes they'd even assign us essays to write about our time on Roblox; even though a few months before everyone stopped doing them unless they were mandatory.

If you don't want to take this serious then stop reading now, but if you want to see what I'm talking about, continue reading. You might feel a little confused about what I'm trying to say but I'll explain it further below.

My parents really like Roblox and they think it's a great way for me to make friends. They think it's good that I'm able to talk to other people online, meet new people and talk to them offline as well. The game is very social, so they like it because I've made many great friends through playing Roblox. I really enjoy Roblox because it has helped me develop a lot of social skills, and it's also a game where you get to meet new people from all around the world. I will continue playing roblox because it gives me the opportunity to have fun and make new friends.

Roblox is an incredible game that gives people the opportunity to play in a virtual world that has so many different games, and it's also completely free. In roblox there are many different categories of games you can play, for example you can create your own game, and the possibilities are almost endless. The first thing I was really interested in when I started playing roblox was creating my own avatar which was really fun because you have a lot of options to choose from. You can pick from what hairstyle you want to wear or even what kind of clothes you want to wear. You can also pick how big or small you want your avatar to be, how they look in the mirror and of course what color the hair is. You can even choose if you want them to wear glasses or not.
